Ramapo High School Dresses Down for Charity

April 8, 2009 – Friday, April 3rd the staff at Ramapo High School held a dressdown day in support of CFOS-The Keith B. Hayes Foundation. Keith Hayes attended Hempstead and Colton Elementary schools and his mother is Sheila Hayes who has been a Speech/Language therapist in our District for 16 years and was an active PTA parent when her children attended ERCSD schools. The money collected will help provide scholarships and equipment for wheelchair-bound students who have muscular dystrophy or other physical disabilities.
